Roosevelt, Hughes Aid in Bitter Row Over Girls

CLEAN MORAL RECORD ASKED BY ELLIOTT

Challenges Meyer To Say He
"Procured" Any Party
Girls for Him.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5—Elliott Roosevelt, angrily demanding that a senate committee "clean up my moral record," challenged publisher John W. Meyer today to say that Meyer ever "procured" any party girls for him.

Testifying before the senate war investigating committee, the second son of the late wartime president challenged in particular an item on Meyer's expense vouchers for the Howard Hughes aircraft company listing "girls at hotel, $50."

"The records of the White House are available, and they will show I was at the White House and I was not at the Stader hotel late," he shouted.

The committee is inquiring into $40,000,000 of wartime contracts given Hughes. It received last week the expense accounts of Meyer, publisher of the National Enquirer, who was paid $169,000 for entertaining various people, including high government officials. These were payments to young women listed for entertaining Meyer's guests.

The accounts showed over $5,000 spent on entertainment for Roosevelt and his friends.

On the night Roosevelt said he was at the White House, Meyer had listed a $76 dinner with Roosevelt, then an army air force colonel, and a $30 charge for girls.

Roosevelt could have been two girls I had dinner with," Meyer said. "There names aren't here. If their names were here, it would help."

Later he said "it may have been Colonel Eidsen" at the hotel with him, referring to Col. Harry Eidsen, who was a member of a Roosevelt-headed mission which recommended that the government buy Hughes' photo reconnaissance plane.

Bitter Words
Roosevelt's attack on Meyer's expense records was launched after Elliott charged that it was "bitterly dispiriting" that Meyer "should indicate every girl he got was for me."

He demanded that Meyer be called to the stand to "state for the record whether he ever got any girl for me."

Meyer, sitting nearby, broke in. "I don't like that word 'procured.' You can give a girl a present at a party and not make a bit of girl out of her."

"You use any word you want," young Roosevelt shouted. "But were they (the girls) for me?"

Roosevelt insisted that Meyer had not answered his question. "The colonel well knows the girls were present," Meyer insisted.

Meyer said that at the gay parties in New York Colonel Roosevelt spent most of his time with Miss Faye Emerson, who later became Mrs. Roosevelt.

"Were any of the girls there to entertain me?" Elliott pressed his former party companion and host.

Meyer insisted the "girls" were part of a large party that varied from 20 to 30 persons.

Resents Implication
"You mean their scintillating conversation was to entertain me?" Roosevelt put in with irony in his voice.

"I resent any implication as to Miss Emerson," Roosevelt said, his voice filled with emotion.

"Oh," Meyer broke in, "that was the last on my mind."

"You have said I was getting all the girls," Roosevelt told Meyer. "You have not answered my question about these girls. What was I doing lining them up?"

In angry tones, Roosevelt contended at another point that the senate group has directed its inquiry at him because he is "the son of the president" and passed

RUZZO TAKES OVER COUNTY COURT POST

Staff Which Served Under Gast To Be Retained.

Probate and Juvenile Court Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, who yesterday took office following his appointment by Governor Thomas J. Herbert, announced today that no changes in the official staff which served under the late Judge Oscar Gast will be made.

Judge Ruzzo will have as his probate court staff, Warren Bull chief clerk; Miss Gertrude V. Carleton, Mrs. Fanny H. Benson and Miss Mabel F. Seiter, deputy clerks; Mrs. Ella Thibaut, probation officer and Marion Apple, juvenile court clerk.

Judge Ruzzo has submitted his resignation to city council. At present he is serving as councilman from the Fifth ward under appointment to fill a vacancy.

Judge Ruzzo was voted in unanimously the first night his name was presented to council to succeed A. H. Dowler, who had moved out of the Fifth ward.

Council is expected to formally accept Judge Ruzzo's resignation Monday night and may move to elect a successor to fill the balance of the unexpired term which ends Dec. 31. Council has 30 days in which to fill the vacancy, after which the mayor is empowered to appoint a successor.

Judge Ruzzo's appointment is for the remainder of the four-year term of Judge Gast, which extends until February, 1949, when the new term will open following the general election in November.

A proposal to increase the term of probate judge from four to six years to correspond with the term of common pleas judge, may come before voters in the general election this fall.

Construction.

By International News Service
COLUMBUS, Aug. 5—The state aviation board was notified today of a $2,082,210 grant for airport improvements in Ohio for the fiscal year of 1947 and 1948.

The civil aeronautics authority granted $1,030,960 for 1947 alone with an additional $1,051,250 for the following year.

Of the airports for which funds were allotted, the Toledo Municipal airport, which receives an allocation of $339,530, is already under construction.

Bids for the Marion city airport and the Bryan-Defiance airport are to be advertised within the next two weeks. The CAA allocated $246,500 for Marion and $50,000 for Bryan-Defiance.

Under CAA rules, the federal government matches local capital on a 50-50 basis for construction purposes. When it is necessary that land be acquired, the government gives the sponsoring agency, only 25 per cent of the total estimated cost.

Atomic Chief Says Americans Must Face Future Without Fear

By FRANK CARRY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5—The nation's atom chief, David E. Lilienthal, says we must "keep our shirts on" and face up to the A-bomb without fear—or we'll miss the boat for "the great atomic adventure."

In an exclusive interview he told The Associated Press there is "a good deal of jumpiness about atomic power" and that it is due partly to "public statements and scare stories by some folks who believe that the only way to impress people about something is to scare the hell out of them."

Lilienthal declined to say who made the statements. Chairman of the U. S. atomic energy commission, (AEC), Lilienthal said:

"I can't in the foreseeable future see existing sources of electrical energy wiped out by the advent of nuclear power. . . . Nuclear power will fit in with and supplement other power resources."

"The advent of atomic power may well lead to a general expansion of all industries—increasing the demands for present sources of power."

Lilienthal said it is up to the American people to decide to what extent atomic energy development shall be supported and pushed in this country, and that such a decision requires knowledge of both the destructive and creative possibilities of the atom.

He declared:

"Such a decision should not be made in an atmosphere of fear and hysteria. It requires reason and judgment—and fear is the enemy of thought."

"There is no question but that the facts about the destructive powers of the atomic bomb are grim facts, but there is a right and a wrong way of presenting them to people."

"The right way is to say: 'Look—this thing is tough. It is grim. It is not a happy experience to be living with a nightmare. But we must talk about it as mature people and not react like children to a horror tale at bedtime.'"

"Let us see what we can do towards insuring against atomic warfare, rather than waste our energies fearing the threat of it. Let us see to it, too, that the shadow of the bomb does not blind us to the scope of atomic development as a potential blessing to mankind."

"The wrong way is to discuss atomic energy as though we were just two steps away from all sorts of flying saucers. The wrong way is to proceed on the premise that the only way to get people to act is to scare them. It's like a fellow who yells 'fire' in a crowded theater."

Lilienthal said that fear—

Slein Doctor's Family Hires Private Detective

NEW HIGH FOR SUMMER HIT IN HEAT WAVE

Mercury Registers 93 in Marion;
No Immediate Relief
Seen.

Marion and the rest of the state and nation today continued in the grip of the early August heat wave with the official weather prediction promising no immediate relief.

However, there is a report that a cold mass of air is moving toward the United States from Canada, holding out hope of lower temperatures before too long.

With temperatures ranging up to 110 degrees in some parts of the United States, thermometers in Marion and other Ohio communities soared into the 90's yesterday with Springfield registering a high of 104. Generally fair and quite warm tonight and Wednesday is the weatherman's prediction.

New High in Marion
The mercury reached 93 for the season's high here, topping Sunday's reading of 91. A low was recorded during the night. A year ago the temperature registered 85 with a low of 59.

An electrical storm around 10 o'clock last night, during which .09 of an inch of rain fell, cooled the air only briefly, and if anything left folks more uncomfortable than before.

Lightning Hits Pole
During the storm firemen from the Mark Street station were called to the corner of East Farming and North Greenwood streets where lightning had struck an electric light pole. There was no property loss.

A good soaking rain is needed if crops, particularly corn, is to make any appreciable progress, according to those keeping a weather eye on the food situation.

Canada Sending Mass of Cool Air

By The Associated Press
An induction of cold air from Canada held some promise today of breaking up the three-day searing heat wave over the northern midwest states.

The Chicago weather bureau said the Dakotas already had received some relief from yesterday's high readings of 100 degrees or more and that Western Minnesota could expect at least moderately lowering temperatures late this afternoon or tonight.

Elsewhere, however, the weather generally would be a continuation of the past two or three days with the southerly flow of hot air prevailing for at least another 24 hours. Temperatures in Michigan today were expected to climb above the highs of yesterday when Grand Rapids reported

Gipsy Smith, Noted Evangelist Heard in Marion, Dies at Sea

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 5—Rodney (Gipsy) Smith, 87, British evangelist, died of a heart attack aboard the British liner Queen Mary at 1 p. m. Monday. It became known when the liner arrived here today.

A few hours before his death he had insisted on being carried to the top deck of the liner to greet some friends.

Mrs. Smith, who accompanied the noted evangelist, said her husband had made the trip for his health. She said that the last time he preached was last year, and that he had hoped to preach during his visit in the United States.

"Gipsy really belongs to the world," the widow said.

Born in Gipsy Tent
A gipsy tent his birthplace, the cure-free life of the Romney clan his heritage, Gipsy Smith was transformed in youth to a mission worker who developed into a leading evangelist.

His influence was extended beyond his native England for he was not yet 30 when he first sailed to America to preach and he was only 34 when he went to Australia and continued around the world.

He made the globe his field for active evangelism, in all visiting the United States more than 30 times. He said he had spent two decades of his life in America. He circled the world twice, going to South Africa, and spending the and a half years in France during the world war.

Smith was born March 31, 1860, near Epping Forest outside of the county of London, second son and fourth child of Cornelius and Mary Smith, and as a youth sold the clothes pegs and tinware his father made.

The wedge breaking him away from a nomad's life was driven when his father and two of his brothers were converted and began preaching. Young Rodney was fired by their example and became converted when he was 16.

Salvation Army General
He set preaching as his goal and, 10 years later, went to work with the Christian Mission, headed by William Booth, soon to become "general" in the reorganization of the mission into the Salvation Army.

Unable to read or write, Smith began educating himself while carrying on his mission work. First called "the gipsy boy," he soon became known as Gipsy Smith, a name by which he was called the rest of his life.

One of his converts when he was working in Wilby was a Miss Annie Pennock, and they were married Dec. 17, 1879. They had three children, two sons and a daughter.

When the Salvation Army emerged in the reorganization of the Christian Mission, Smith continued in the work and rose to the rank of captain. Suddenly, however, in 1892, the connection was severed, dismissal following the receipt of gifts from admiring people in Hanley.

First Time in U. S.
Various missions then claimed his services and early in 1899 he paid his first visit to America, going as far west as Ohio. Two years later he returned to the states on another tour and in 1891 was back for a seven-month trip that took him as far as Denver.

In between voyages he conducted campaigns in England and Scotland and in 1894 approached the states from another direction on the last lap of his first round-the-world tour.

After returning from his fifth American visit, in 1896, he became a special evangelist for the National Council of Free Churches, a connection that was maintained until 1912.

The war sent him to France. Various missions then claimed his services and early in 1899 he paid his first visit to America, going as far west as Ohio. Two years later he returned to the states on another tour and in 1891 was back for a seven-month trip that took him as far as Denver.

OHIO PASTORS MAKE FIRST RAID ON VICE

By The Associated Press
STEUBENVILLE, O., Aug. 5—The first anti-gambling raid actually conducted by three of this city's crusading Protestant ministers resulted in fines for six men.

The men were arrested at an establishment outside the city with three ministers leading Sheriff Robert Bates and his deputies to the scene.

Rev. Robert E. Russell, president of the Steubenville Ministerial association; Rev. Daniel Hoffman and Rev. Charles Moore took part in the raid. All are affiliated with the Society for the Prevention of Crime, Inc., organized January 1 to combat gambling, prostitution and racketeering in this Ohio river city.

UNION GIVEN YEAR OF GRACE AGAINST SUITS

Eleventh-Hour Pact Signed To Keep 107,000 Men at Work Today.

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, Aug. 5—The CIO United Auto Workers, in an agreement averting their Ford Motor Co. strike scheduled for today, were given a year's grace from strike damage suits under the Taft-Hartley labor law.

This the company agreed to in an eleventh-hour pact which served to keep 107,000 production workers on the job as a nationwide walkout, set for noon, was called off.

The agreement under which the union and company will undertake mutually to settle their dispute growing from the act's penalty provisions, protects the union for a period of a year from the date a new contract is signed.

Agree on Year
Ford and the UAW agreed to spend at least a year if necessary in order to secure a mutually satisfactory understanding of union and company privileges. A joint committee will seek this.

Henry Ford II, president of the company, issued the following statement on the compromise:

"The agreement to refer to a joint study group the question of the liability of the union for damages by suit for breach of contract, seems to us an eminently fair solution to a particularly thorny problem."

"Any new labor legislation raises problems of human relationships. It has become apparent to us that all of the ramifications of such problems can not be ironed out immediately around the bargaining table."

"Under today's settlement, opportunity has now been provided for finding in less hectic surroundings a solution within the spirit of the Taft-Hartley law acceptable to both the union and the company."

A joint company-union statement announcing the agreement averting the strike was made public at 4:30 a. m. (EST), less than eight hours ahead of the strike deadline.

The statement said the union would not be held liable for breach of contract "because of any strike or work stoppage" during the year's period.

No Suit Pledge
"The company," said the statement, "will not institute any suit against the union, its officers and members in such event."

In addition, the UAW-CIO was given the "right to strike" on the issue if no solution were forthcoming after "a year of deliberation and negotiations."

The year's grace in the union from damage suit liability under the new law will be dated from the date of the Ford-UAW contract still to be drawn.

Negotiations on other contract issues, including the reported $20,000-a-year workers' pension plan, will resume Thursday, both sides said.

The Ford-UAW statement expressed the "confidence" of company and union officials that the remaining issues could be solved "within a relatively short time."

A strike against Ford had been threatened in an effort to enforce the union's demand for a contractual clause giving it immunity from the Taft-Hartley penalty provisions.

The law permits an employer to sue a union for damages in event of a violation of its contract with management. This the UAW has sought to avoid by private contract in all current negotiations.

Sherwood and Herbert To Confer on Scioto

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 5—State Welfare Director Charles J. Sherwood said today he would confer with Gov. Thomas J. Herbert soon on means of taking title to a section of the Scioto Ordnance Plant at Marion for an annex to the boys' industrial school.

The war assets administration and the federal land bank of Louisville, which have custody of the property, are ready to turn it over to the state but some official must be legally authorized to accept it. The last legislature passed a bill designating such an authority for the Cambridge state hospital, formerly Federal General Hospital, but failed to enact provisions for the Scioto Ordnance Plant.

OILING OF STREETS IS STARTED BY CITY

Surface Treatment Scheduled in About 2 Weeks.

The work of oiling Marion streets was started yesterday, L. O. Uncapher, safety service director, announced today. Approximately three cars of oil will be used before the 10 miles or more of streets are covered. Work is expected to be completed this week.

Mr. Uncapher reported that the surface treatment program, which will include work on about 12 3/10 miles of Marion streets, will get under way in about two weeks. Three cars of asphalt emulsion will be used. He announced that this year a dust preventive solution will be added to the crushed stone before it is applied to the asphalt.

Some of the more prominent streets which will receive the surface treatment will be Windtor, from East Church to Bellefontaine avenue; Blaine avenue, Oak and North Greenwood from the Erie railroad to Fairground street; Jefferson street, South Seffner avenue, from East Center street to Indiana avenue.

Although these streets are already paved, Mr. Uncapher explained, they are beginning to become rough in spots and the resurfacing treatment will afford extra protection.

Kentucky Quads Can't Be Found

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5 — Mrs. John T. Turner says she has a letter advising that she became "a grandma four times" recently through birth of four girls to her 17-year-old daughter, Mrs. Virginia Vandy of near Langhau, Ky., but the Kentucky highway patrol, after an unsuccessful search for quadruplets down Langhau way, believes "there must have been a mistake, or somebody was playing a joke."

The letter dated July 30 received by Mrs. Turner, shown to a Times-Star reporter, said the children were born "Monday." That would have been a week ago yesterday.

The new arrivals were named Goldie, Christine, Grace and Daisy, the letter said, and added: "The granny woman said I had the prettiest set of quadruplets she had ever seen. Willie (Mr. Vandy) was scared to death."

Mrs. Turner said she did not believe her daughter was "kidding."

However, at London, Ky., near Langhau, James D. Stacey, radio operator for the Kentucky highway patrol station, said Patrol Capt. John Black sent two patrolmen to Langhau to investigate but they came back with the declaration that the multiple birth report was "entirely without foundation."

UN Must Make Cease Fire Order in Indonesia Stick

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press
Foreign Affairs Analyst

We get a wee glimpse of rain-bow through the storm-clouds in the compliance by Holland and the Indonesian Republicans with the order by the United Nations security council for cessation of the bloody hostilities in the Dutch East Indies.

This is the first command ever issued by the council in the interests of peace. It may be the last if it isn't made to stick. Whether it is made to stick will depend on whether members of the security council can bury self-interest and their own differences long enough to deal with this Indonesian threat to global tranquility.

The League of nations died because of the inability of its members to measure up to these identical requirements.

A world which is most damnable weary of bloodshed and hunger and privation thinks it's about time all nations got aboard the peace bandwagon—and "the devil take the hindmost."

Bitter Pill
One recognizes that Holland—as the "mother country"—has had to swallow a bitter pill in ordering the cease fire against those whom she regards as rebels. Just how bitter was made clear last Thursday when the Dutch ambassador to the United States, Elco Van Kleffens, told the security council that this was a purely domestic affair and that the council has no right to intervene.

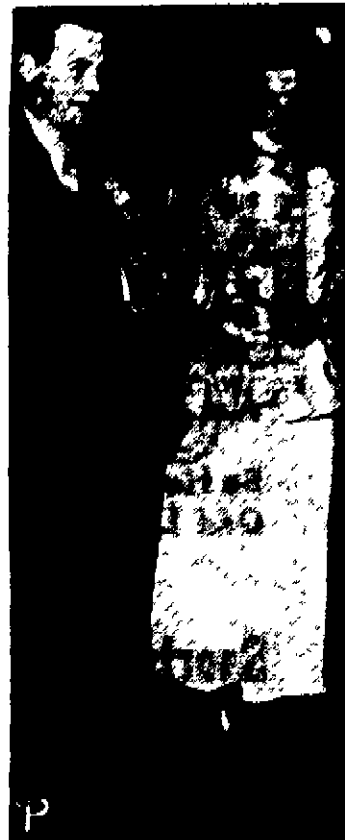

Again, one can understand why the representative of an imperial government should have that viewpoint. The ambassador most certainly will run up against the argument that, in the new era which the world is entering, a quarrel between a "mother country" and a dependency of another race no longer constitutes an "internal affair." Were the trouble in Holland itself, undoubtedly there would arise the question of whether the nation's sovereignty was being infringed. Of course this opens up a big field for argument. We see that in the nature of the security council vote on the Australian-American can resolution which ordered the Netherlands and Indonesian governments to cease fighting immediately and settle their differences by peaceful means. There are eleven members on the council including the big five—America, Britain, Russia, France and China. The vote was 8-0 in favor of the resolution, with three abstentions.

Silence Is Obvious
Those abstaining were imperial governments—Britain, France and Belgium—and they kept quiet for obvious reasons.

So while we can say—and the world in general will agree—that empires are on their way out, yet it will be a long time before all of them are broken up. While they remain we must expect the imperial governments to insist on their right to defend what they regard as their rightful possessions. And in rebuttal we shall hear such charges as Dr. T. T. Tsiang of China, hurled at Holland during the security council debate when he declared that the Dutch were acting as an "overlord" and wanted to place Indonesia in the role of a "vassal state."

The way things stand at this writing The Netherlands government has accepted the offer of the United States to use its good offices in an effort to settle the Dutch-Indonesian differences. The Republicans don't like the idea of having only one country act as mediator, but the matter is under consideration.

By The Associated Press
NEW BRAUNFELS, Tex., Aug. 5—Defense attorneys for Dr. Lloyd I. Ross of San Antonio, a native of Delroy, O., are seeking evidence to prove he is insane and not accountable for the deaths of four persons the state claims he ambushed and shot May 25.

The trial will reopen here Sept. 9. The defense won a 43-day postponement July 28 when the case first came to trial. The former Ohio doctor, Harvard-trained and recognized as one of the state's top surgeons, despite his comparative youth—he is 42—is charged with murder in the deaths of four members of the Willard H. York family.

He had been their family physician for years, and he and York had been close friends for 10 years.

In recent months, however, Dr. Ross and York, an investment broker of San Antonio, had financial difficulties it was said. The young doctor, as a result, had lost a fortune.

The doctor in March charged York was indebted to him in stocks, bonds and securities for over $80,000. Later, he said another $41,000 of his money had been "wrongfully" pledged by York, bringing his total losses to over $121,000.

York was investigated by the securities and exchange commission, which revealed irregularities in his operations. The broker then took out bankruptcy.

The sequel was a tragedy that rocked this Germanic community of 10,000.

Slain on Way to Church
On May 25 the York family left its Comal county ranch home and headed for church. In the car were York, his wife Gertrude Q. York, 43, their nine-year-old son John, a 13-year-old daughter, and York's mother, Mrs. Mary York, 67.

As their car swept around a sharp curve on the lonely country road a man carrying a rifle stepped from behind a parked car.

He forced them to stop, and almost immediately began shooting. York and his wife were shot dead in the front seat. Those in the back seat attempted to flee. The boy was shot dead as he stepped from the car. The elderly Mrs. York ran about 12 feet, and was shot in the back. Her body was found sprawled in the lane.

Little Ann was wounded in the hip but managed to escape into some underbrush. She made her way to a caretaker's home, and the alarm was spread after Sheriff W. A. Scholl was notified.

Four hours after the shooting, Dr. Ross walked into a San Antonio police station, 31 miles away, and told officers they could find a discharged gun in his car. He did not amplify his statement.

He was arrested, and turned over to Sheriff Scholl. Dr. Ross was taken to New Braunfels and placed in the Comal county jail, where he has been held since without bond.

Has Many Visitors
Sheriff Scholl said he has been a model prisoner. The registration books show that over 600 visitors have been to see him. During the latter part of July, he held a birthday celebration in his cell.

They also have a young daughter. She was not in the courtroom. A sister of Dr. Ross, Renna Ross, was present.

Defense attorneys requested a delay in order to prepare evidence and obtain witnesses to prove that Dr. Ross "was and is insane." They have over 80 witnesses, many of them San Antonio doctors.

The trial has attracted national interest. Even in this stolid, calm Germanic town, interest has been high.

Dr. Ross has said he wants no change of venue. He wants to be tried here. Also, he is anxious for the trial to be held as soon as possible. He spends much of his time reading medical books, and has remained calm and composed.

Army Rolls Now Open For Service in Europe

Major Burnham, commanding officer of the Marion U. S. Army recruiting station announced today that the Army is now accepting applications for enlistment or reenlistment in the regular Army for direct assignment to the European command. Prior to Aug. 1 no applications were accepted for initial assignment to this theater. It was pointed out by Major Burnham that to qualify for this assignment, a man must have had previous service in one of the armed forces, and enlist for a period of three, four or five years. Qualified applicants may be enlisted up to and including the grade of staff sergeant.

The number of applicants who can be accepted is limited by a directive from the war department for this reason men will be enlisted on a first come, first served basis.

Time Out for Mediation

FOR the first time, when the UN in its role as referee blew its whistle, scrimmaging has halted. The Dutch and the Indonesians have agreed to cease hostilities while mediators look into their differences.

This isn't the great victory UN supporters wish it might be. The Indonesians, being mercilessly pushed back by the Dutch, were glad to accede to the UN order. The Dutch, concerned at worldwide disapproval of their action and the tempest they had stirred up among the Moslems, were just as eager to turn the dispute over to an impartial board.

One highly optimistic aspect of the situation is that Great Britain and France, colonial powers like the Netherlands, abstained from vetoing mediation, knowing full well they might be helping set a precedent which some day would bring the UN into their own colonial affairs. Their action should stand as an example for delegate Gromyko & Co., whose capricious use of the veto
 has done as much as anything to hamstringing
 the UN.

The principle established means that a threat
 to world peace, whatever its underlying cause, is a matter for the UN. If this principle isn't abandoned or compromised when, for instance,
 it is applied to the Balkans or any other major sore spot, the UN may be on the way to becoming an effective force for peace. If the principle was approved only because it involved trouble on remote islands, the UN outlook is no brighter than before.

Once Upon a Time

THE British Nursery Schools association says
 the story of Little Red Riding Hood should be kept from children because it is cruel, deceptive and likely to create fear complexes in children.

The association doubts less in its membership many who have made life studies of children but could it be that they are overestimating
 the effect of the macabre fairy tale on the juvenile mind? Children's literature has its basic in folklore which emphasizes grim tales of blood-letting and retribution. Stories of wicked, vengeful kings, witches and orphan waifs were regaling children and sometimes sending chills up and down their spines long before fear complexes were heard of. The behind-the-barn reading of a generation ago also had its share of cruelty and deception, but no one has attempted to tie it up with the present state of the world.

This isn't a defense of Little Red Riding Hood.
 She takes care of herself very well when the chips are down. Perhaps giving children a diet of sweetness-and-light fairy tales would make them better adults. But on the basis of past performance charts, the British may be underestimating the resilience of the child mind.

A Land of Plenty?

WE THINK of America as a nation richly endowed by nature, but the Army-Navy munitions board says we must depend entirely on foreign sources for antimony, asbestos, chrome, columbite, corundum, industrial diamonds, emetine, graphite, hyacinth, jewel bearings, kyanite, monazite, nickel, pepper, platinum, pyrethrum, quartz, quebracho, quinine, rubber,
 talc, shellac, tantalum, tin and zircon.

Copper, an absolute necessity, is running low.
 We import 95 per cent of our mica, 90 per cent of beryllium, bauxite and iodine, 80 per cent of our bismuth, cadmium and rutile. We are short of manila fiber and the Mexican and Cuban government have monopolies of sisal fiber.
 Antimony, vanadium, high grade bauxite and mica are the only items of which domestic supplies may be further developed.

In the commonly accepted sense of the word,
 we are not a "have-not" nation. But we aren't a "have" nation, either.

First Line of Defense

THE most important decision reached by the 80th congress before adjournment was overshadowed by piffing trifles. The United States is to be protected in the future by a central intelligence agency, working inside the national security council.

This country had been almost wrecked at the outset of two wars in this generation by its own ignorance. What it didn't know about the international facts of life in 1917 and 1941 filled the German mass exterminators, Japanese war lords and Russian international revolutionists with the deepest pleasure.

Pearl Harbor turned on a great light. It was revealed that any nation that wants to think of itself as a major power must know what other major powers are doing. It must have a first line of defense that keeps track of its potential enemies and knows who its actual enemies are.

The United States has no geographic security any more; the long-range bomber and the atomic bomb have changed that. It has no security other than that it can achieve by actions on information about its international neighbors. The new international espionage system may not work,
 but at least something has been created to do what no government can afford to neglect.

Not All Consumers Are Members of Labor Unions.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—With firecracker words, union people write me asking "who are the consumers?" They then (turning their own answer, which is that they are the consumers. With the sheer volume of their organized mail, and explosive epithets from such nebulous, unidentified characters as "a labor housewife," they are trying to crowd me into retracting my frequent economic analyses showing the unions are working against the consumers.

Indeed, they are trying to convince me that the unions themselves are all labor simply because they call themselves "labor."

Well, let's look at the matter
 more thoroughly.

There are 60,000,000 workers in this country today. The unions only claim to represent about 15,000,000. Therefore they are not labor. They are not even a majority of labor. They are about one-fourth. They are one-fourth which tries to monopolize the whole economy of the country
 by sheer superior weight of political pressures, propaganda and indeed any means at their command even down to picketing the wedding of a man and woman
 simply because the groom's father is in politics and did not do what they demanded.

Now there are 140,000,000 peo-

Did He Look in the Hammock?

An Alabama citizen is suing the Pullman company for $1,000 for a set of false teeth lost on one of its cars.

Did he maybe leave them out
 for the porter to shine?

A portion of the damages is to cover his humiliation. It is surprising the number of people with false teeth and matching pride.
 Those hard rolls they serve in dining cars make tough chewing,
 by gum.

Of course, insofar as the actual disappearance of his denture is concerned, he can't suspect the Pullman company. It's got plenty of uppers and lowers.

In fact, he's probably fortunate
 the Pullman company isn't suing him. The next passenger to occupy that section might well have been the first person in history to receive a berth-mark after middie age.

The Vandenberg Threat

By RAYMOND MOLEY

PORTLAND, Ore. — A distinct threat to Governor Dewey's chance for the nomination is suggested by Oregon Republicans.
 They point out that should the international situation develop more serious aspects, the party in 1948 may turn to the experience and soundness of Senator Vandenberg, rather than to Dewey.
 Hence, they are in no mood for a commitment to the New York
 governor now.

The fact is that no one in Oregon is in a position to pledge
 the state's delegation to anyone.
 The direct presidential primary prevails in this state, and the state's delegates to the convention will be instructed by that vote next May. But national candidates are hesitant about entering the Oregon primary, because in case of a contest a candidate risks far more in prestige
 than he might gain in votes.
 Usually, the first one to enter forecloses others, and the decision goes to him without a contest.

Dewey Unlikely To Enter

In the present instance, Dewey
 is not likely to enter the primary, partly because he would have to be declared an active candidate and partly because his entry
 might alienate Governor Warren,
 who will control the big Calif.
 delegation at the convention.
 Moreover, a movement for Dewey here would probably not be supported by Senator Wayne Morse and by Ralph C. Calkins, national committeemen. Morse is known to be extremely sympathetic to Vandenberg, who has befriended him in the Senate.
 Calkins was a strong supporter of the late Wendell Willkie and was his manager in the short but frustrated Willkie campaign for the nomination in 1944. Calkins sympathies go toward men such as Vandenberg, Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut and Harold Stassen, whose international views are in line with those held by Willkie.

National Committeeman Calkins
 did not participate in the meeting of western-state Republicans
 at Roseman, Mont., last month.
 The only intimation of Oregon's attitude toward Dewey was a statement by Governor Earl Snel

Medical Service Corps

The army's surgeon general
 Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, is preparing a plan whereby the army's Pharmacy, Sanitary and Medical Administrative Corps will be consolidated under one table
 of organization and will be known as the Medical Service Corps.
 Members will be known as pharmacists and will release members of the army's other medical branches—Medical, Dental and Veterinary—from administrative duties.

The plan is to have three pharmacist officers for each 1,000 men throughout the army. Among their duties will be purchase, examination and storage of medical supplies; assistants to battalion and regimental surgeons;
 hospital adjutants, registrars, executive officers, mess officers and detachment commanders.

ple in the United States and if the unions represent one-fourth (if they have raised the same size families as others) they are 35-000,000 people trying to run 140-000,000 by means including intimidation.

Quite obviously then, they are not "the consumers," but one-fourth of same. The next question then is do they represent the interest of consumers? Being one-fourth, do they speak for consumers? Do they act in the interest of consumers?

Only on Sundays, you might reasonably say. They have a branch which they call the consumers division and this emits statistics, and propaganda on prices being too high, sometimes demanding restoration of O.P., and always attacking business and profits. But you might call that a Sunday job compared with their real work. When they get together to negotiate a contract with management, the consumers division never sits in. Their leaders do not demand things of management which will protect consumers, but only things for themselves. They constantly each year ask more and more privileges, special privileges indeed which other people are not allowed, all of which continually increase the cost of living to the three-fourths. They demand "justice" for themselves, never for the other three-fourths.

Price of Lewis Justice

John Lewis did not demand justice for coal consumers of the operators, but increased privileges which will cost the U. S.
 Steel Co. $75,000,000 a year in steel and $40,000,000 a year in coal, so you can imagine what the rest of the coal consuming public will have to pay (no one has announced any figures for them).
 Such procedure is customarily in all union dealings with management. I cannot recall a single instance in which they acted for consumers, although I can recall a lot of cases in which they did considerable misleading talking about holding prices down, and then as soon as everyone forgot the talk, the prices went up, and by that time they were ready to demand another wage increase.

Their numerical position as one-fourth of the consumers is not truly an accurate estimate then. They do not represent the consumer at all in action, only in talk, only on Sundays as if they were doing a job on that day for which they did not get paid.

Maryland Weekly Proves the News Unchanged

By HAL BOTLE
ANNAPOLIS, Md. — News doesn't change—only the men who make the news.
To prove this you have only to glance back through the files of old newspapers such as "The Maryland Gazette," a weekly that has been portraying the American scene—with a few forced interruptions—since 1727.
Take, for example, government experiments in crop control in recent years.
In 1729—some 218 years ago—Maryland planters protested heatedly that the London dealers had sold their tobacco at a low price.
The London merchants, as reported by the Maryland Gazette, sent back word that market was overstocked and made these suggestions to the planters to hold the prices stable:
"First, by planting less tobacco every year."
"Second, by destroying every year all trash and meen tobacco."
"Third, by forbearing to plant every fourth year."
Does that sound familiar? Although printers at the time were customarily under $400 bond (big money then!) not to publish news embarrassing to the colonial governors or the King, William Parks of the Gazette printed both.

Do YOU Own A "Scratching" Dog?
If you own and are fond of a dog that is continually scratching, digging, rubbing, and biting himself until his skin is raw and sore, don't just feel sorry for him. The dog can't help himself, but you may. He may be clean and free and just suffering from an intense itching irritation that has centered in the nerve endings of his skin. Do as thousands of pleased dog owners are doing. As any good drug store, pet or sport shop, yet a few packages of Rex Hunters Dog Powders, and give them once a week. Note the quick improvement. One owner writes: "My female setter on Sept. 26th did not have a handful of hair on her body—all scratched and bitten off. I gave her the powders as directed. By Nov. 15th she was all haired out. I learn what they will do for your dog. Make a 25c test. (Broomony size box for only $1.00). Important. Keep your dog clean and free with Rex Hunters Medicated Dog Soap and Pine Oil Disinfectant."

where the stamp was to be affixed.
Publication was interrupted often—Green brought out one issue entitled, "The Apparition of the Maryland Gazette, which is not dead but sleeping." Eventually, however, the paper weathered the political storm, and recorded the birth of American independence.
Now 220 years old and known to Anne Arundel county citizens as "The Maryland Bible," the Gazette is still coming out weekly. Under present Publisher Talbot T. Speer it has grown to sixteen pages and the subscription price has dropped to $3 a year. The Gazette uses printer's ink now instead of linseed oil mixed with lampblack—the ink of colonial times.
But the news—births, deaths, crop reports, sailings, unusual animal stories and government doings—is pretty much the same as ever.
"There still is a field for the country weeklies," said E. M. Jackson Jr., the general manager. "There are a lot of people who don't buy any paper but them."

Eviction of Blind Man Tough Case for Judge
By The United Press
COLUMBUS, Aug. 5 — Municipal Judge Wayne T. Foote faced one of his toughest decisions yesterday. According to the law, he had to order a blind man evicted from his home.
The judge deferred decision for 15 days but felt he probably would have to issue the order evicting sightless Attorney John H. Ralls, 50, from the home he has occupied since 1932.
The new owner of the home, who bought it a year ago, said he and his family have been living in three rooms and that he asked for the eviction so he could house his family properly.
Judge Foote said he would try to help the blind man find a new home.

Social Affairs

FOLLOWING an annual custom members of the Elks Women's club are meeting only once a month during the summer season. The August meeting will be held Wednesday at Hotel Harding, when luncheon will be followed by an afternoon of cards. Present plans are to open the fall and winter season in September with a party in the Elks' clubrooms.

A number of showers complimented Miss Wanda Myers of Brush Ridge, a bride of last Sunday. Thirty guests were entertained at the rehearsal party given by Mrs. Archie Rice, aunt of Miss Myers, Friday evening at the home of the latter's grandmother, Mrs. John Bibler north of Brush Ridge. At that time Miss Myers and her fiancé, Robert Turney of Harpster, presented gifts to their attendants. Other social affairs honoring the bride-elect, included a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Paul Thibaut and a party given by Miss Edith Williams at the home of her mother, Mrs. Benjamin Williams at Brush Ridge. At the home of Mrs. Thibaut the evening was spent socially and awards were won by Miss Joan Brenz of Harpster, Miss Alice McIntire of LaRue and Miss Janice Myers of Brush Ridge. Miss Williams' party honored Miss Myers and her fiancé, and guests were members of a Sunday school class to which they belonged. Supper was served.

Mrs. Ruth Haubert was a guest at a meeting of the N. O. C. club Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Emerson of Meadow street. Cootie awards were won by Mrs. Eileen Alexander, Mrs. Virginia Carroll, Mrs. Thelma Skinner, Mrs. Marilyn Reinwald and Mrs. Juanita Hatch. Mrs. Alexander received the penny box award.

Mrs. Flora Hoffman was hostess when the Starlight Club met recently with Mrs. Donald Hoffman.

Weddings

Of interest here is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Betty A. Lawler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Lawler of Dayton, to John A. Schmitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Schmitz, also of Dayton. The father of the bride is a former resident of Marion.

The couple were married Saturday morning, Aug. 2 in the St. Agnes church in Dayton, Father Lawrence Yackel performing the double ring ceremony at 9:30 o'clock. Bouquets of white and American Beauty roses formed the setting for the candlelight service. Norman Schmidt was the organist and soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin styled along princess lines with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline trimmed with satin fluting and seed pearls, pointed sleeves and a full skirt ending in a long train. Her veil was finger tip length and fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Virginia Lawler attended her sister as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Mary Lou Lawler, Miss Marjorie Davis and Miss Shirley Menke. The maid of honor wore a gown of yellow tulle with a fitted bodice, puffed sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. She carried American Beauty roses tied with streamers to match her gown. The bridesmaids were attired in gowns of aqua faille and carried yellow tea roses tied with contrasting streamers. The flower girl, Miss Thelma Coleman, was in yellow and carried a basket of assorted flowers.

Joseph Cull served as best man and ushers were Bill Ralph, Phil Roth and Walt Kleimitt. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lawler chose a powder blue dress with which she combined navy blue accessories. Mrs. Schmitz was attired in a blue dress with black accessories. Each wore an orchid corsage.

A wedding breakfast was served following the ceremony at the West Milton Inn, and the reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in the afternoon. When the couple left for a trip to Niagara Falls, Mrs. Schmitz was wearing a gray gabardine suit with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Attending the wedding from Marion were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daugherty, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ruback and Misses Ann Lawler, Donna Mae Lawler and Gertrude Lawler, all relatives of the bride.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Helen Kheune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kheune of southeast of Nevada, to Gerald Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord Wilson of the Bucyrus pike. The ceremony was read July 20 in the parsonage of the Green Camp Baptist church by Rev. Lester Kidd. Mrs. Wilson is a graduate of Harpster High school. Mr. Wilson, a veteran of World War II, served two and a half years with the Army overseas. The couple are residing on a farm south of Kirkpatrick.

Thursday, July 31, a miscellaneous shower was held for Mr. and Mrs. Wilson at the home of her parents. The evening was spent socially and refreshments were served to the 44 guests present.

MRS. HAZEL M. CAMPBELL

Plans Made For Marion Chapter Of Secretaries

Marion will be represented in the National Secretaries association if plans of the association and Mrs. Hazel M. Campbell, its organizing representative, materialize.

Mrs. Campbell, whose home is in Kansas City, Mo., is here to contact women interested in forming a chapter in Marion. The association has a threefold purpose, secretarial, educational and professional, she explains. Now five years old, the organization has approximately 250 chapters in the United States, 12 of which are in Ohio. The social phase is in the form of monthly dinner meetings, the educational part a monthly magazine, "The Secretary," designed to make members more efficient, and the professional phase brings to the secretary the recognition and prestige which she deserves in the business world. "Better Letters—Better Living," is the association's motto.

The association is similar to the Bar association for attorneys, the American Medical association for doctors and similar organizations, and is non-union, non-political and non-profit, with its members holding the ownership.

To be eligible for membership a girl need only be a qualified secretary. Mrs. Campbell plans to remain in Marion throughout the organization of the chapter. In conformance with the national constitution, officers will be appointed by Mrs. Campbell to serve for three months, after which the chapter members hold an election to select their own presiding officers.

Chapters from Toledo, Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, Mansfield, Warren, Lima, Portsmouth, Cincinnati and Springfield, were guests of the Columbus group for the state convention last November. The national convention was held at St. Paul, Minn.

While in Marion Mrs. Campbell is making her headquarters at Hotel Harding.

Turn In Used Cooking Fats!

ask MARY MARGARET McBRIDE,
Famous Radio Commentator

One of the finest jobs ever done by American housewives has been in saving used fats! Since 1942, over 800 million pounds have been salvaged. But, as Secretary of Commerce W. A. Harriman points out, the job still isn't over. "Not only the United States, but the whole world still lacks adequate supplies of fats and oils. And we in America are particularly short of industrial fats, or their products, are needed to make many things we use every day. The used fats you turn in will help tide us over until supplies are normal."

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADLE GARRISON

AT Faith's little bombshell, looked quickly at the bedroom door, fearing Noel and Mary might be coming through it. I had just succeeded in lulling Noel's suspicions about the bars, but I knew they easily could be aroused again by Faith's prattle about conversations which she could not understand, and her puzzled reference to "little pitchers." I knew that I must act quickly. She was sitting next to me, and, turning to her, I leaned over, put my hand beneath her chin and turned her face up to mine. "Faith," I said, not sternly, but with a note in my voice which she understood, "what talk to which you listened was what is called a private conversation. We did not intend that you should understand it—yet. When you are older, it will be explained to you. Now how many times have I told you never to repeat a private conversation?" Faith wriggled as if she were a butterfly impaled upon a pin, but when her answer came, it was characteristically nonchalant. "Oh, a thousand, or more, I guess!" she said, and her father hastily retired behind his napkin. But Katharine gazed steadily and seriously at her. "Now you are being silly," I said. "Please listen to me carefully. You are not to speak again either to us or to anyone else about the conversation with big words which you heard just now. Do you understand that?" "Yes, Mummy," she said meekly, winking back the tears, and, sloping, I kissed the flushed little face while her arms went around my neck convulsively. It is a maxim of mine that some affectionate gesture must follow reproof immediately if capitulation and remorse are genuine. "Have you finished your breakfast?" I asked lightly as I raised my head, and saw with relief that the bedroom door still was closed. My young daughter eyed me speculatively. "I would like another pancake," she said. "I think there are some left in that covered dish." "I think she'll live," her father said, "but I was visualizing an early demise from grief a few seconds ago." "Yes, you may have one more pancake, Faith," I said, sending Dicky a withering glance over her head, and counting it as one of my blessings that she was fully absorbed in her favorite delicacy before Noel and Mary came through the door. They were both radiant, but Noel patently was in a hurry. "I must fly now," he said. "Goodbye, everybody, and thank you for everything. May I have dinner with Mary tonight. She wants me to." He finished, with a faltering smile at her. "If Dr. Twitchell consents," Katharine said placidly, "and I see no reason why she shouldn't, you two certainly may dine together. That is, if Mary doesn't get too tired today." "Which is a kick in the teeth for little Mary," Katharine's patient said. But she smiled as she spoke, and evidently Noel either didn't hear her or didn't take her words seriously, for he went away beaming after a fond farewell to Mary at the door, and she turned gaily back to us. "That was the most scrumptious
